ello! Welcome to Memini '79. I'm your friendly "Helping Hand" and I'll be your guide on this journey through a typical year of school life at Comp. I'd like to show you the pride and spirit, the knowledge and charities, the sportsmanship and friendships that make Comp the special school that it is.

"Before we go on though, I'd like to tell you a little about myself. You see, I was chosen as your guide because I'm a "helping hand" and everyone needs a helping hand at one time or another. Did you ever stop to think how important and useful hands are? You use us every day but I bet you never stopped to think about our purpose."

"Guiding" hands (Open house)

"Artistic" hands (Paper maché class)

"Comforting" hands (Varsity soccer game)

"Skillfull" hands (Auto body class)

"Victorious" hands (Girl's swim meet)

"Sportsman-like" hands (Freshmen soccer game)

"Creative" hands (Clay forms class)

"Industrious" hands (Machine shop)

"Scientific" hands (Chemistry lab)

"Supporting" hands (Varsity soccer game)

So you see, from what we have shown you, we hands have a wide variety of uses. Not only are we supporting, but also creative and industrious. Although we hands are seldom considered a major part of your life, you use us everyday.

The student body at Comp feels that the school they attend is special. A variety of students gave their opinions about what helps make Comp the Special place that it is.

"Because the spirit among the students is more intense. The kids really care what happens to their school."
Chuck Kandillis, Class of '80.

"There is a variety of subjects you can take." Ann Nimchick, Class of '82.

"Comp is special due to the student body's enthusiasm toward sports and other extracurricular activities."
Debbie Bell, Class of '79.

"The school offers a lot of great clubs that you can really get involved in." Debbie Tokarski, Class of '81.

"Because it is a vocational school." Bob Shea, Class of '79.

"The way the students get involved in activities." Mike Tracey, Class of '81.

"The teachers and the students cooperating with one another." Cathy Koehler, Class of '80.

"The kids and the way they really care about their friends. Also, the teacher's attitudes toward their students."
Sheila Shea, Class of '81.

"Because there is a friendly atmosphere, the kids are really nice and have a lot of spirit." Scott Redfern, Class of '82.

"The student body, as a whole, has a good attitude toward special activities and charitable causes." Barb Nauman, Class of '80.

"Because it is the only school that had to wait so long for its desperately needed renovations." Colleen St.Onge, Class of '79.

"There are more vocational opportunities at Comp than at any other school." Rick Touchette, Class of '81.

"There is always a variety of things to do - everyday and any time of the day. Also, there is a time to be serious and a time to joke around." Stan Alstede, Class of '79.

Throughout our years at Comp, we have experienced many changes in conjunction with our education. School has provided us not only with scholastic knowledge from books, but also with knowledge of our individualism in society.

Now as we seniors graduate, we will experience our greatest change yet. We are now young adults and our decisions about our future lie within our own hands.

As we experience this change, Comp itself is experiencing a great change, through its renovations. The school will grow, in its physical size and appearance, and by this growth will be better equipped to offer its many students more educational opportunities.

Mud puddles and sand piles mark the beginning of the new athletic fields.

Construction of the new octagonal library was slow and tedious.

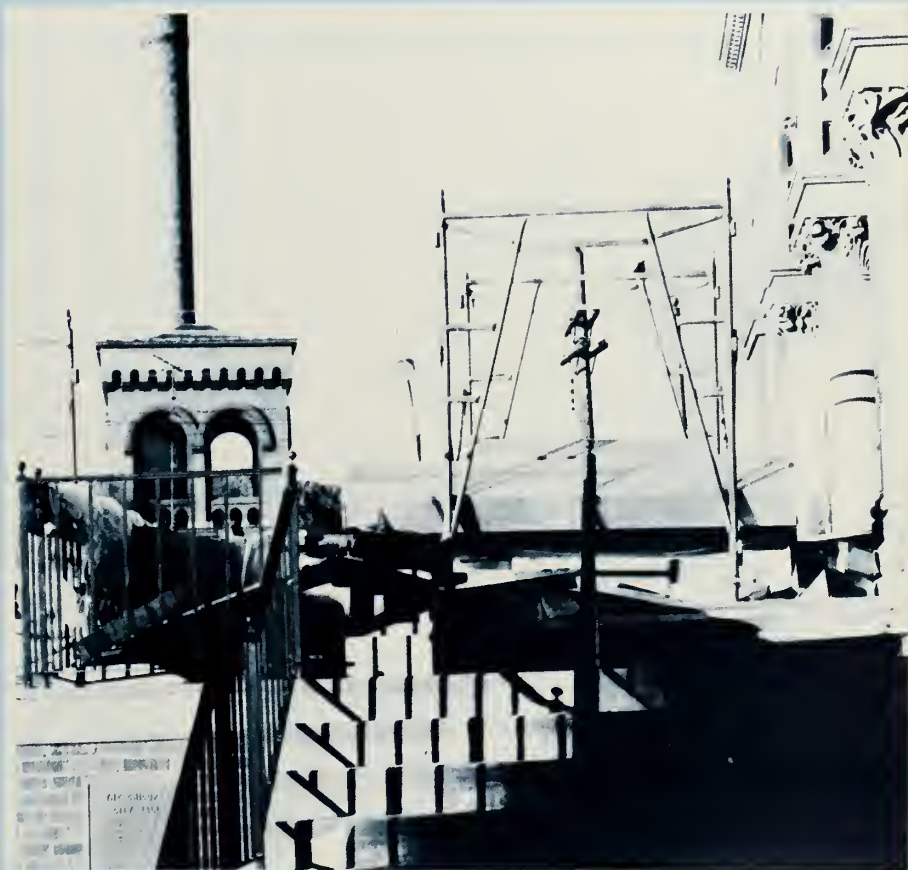

A mass of wires could be seen in the main office during renovations to the intercom system.

A make-shift emergency escape was assembled due to the closing of a fire exit, which was the result of renovation procedures. Staircases of wood are visible from both the outside (left) and the inside (right) of the building.

While Comp was experiencing its renovations to open more opportunities to its students, Chicopee itself was in the same situation. The city hall was being renovated inside to preserve its historical beauty. To open roads, and make traveling easier, a new Interstate 391 bridge was being constructed over the Connecticut River between Chicopee and Holyoke.

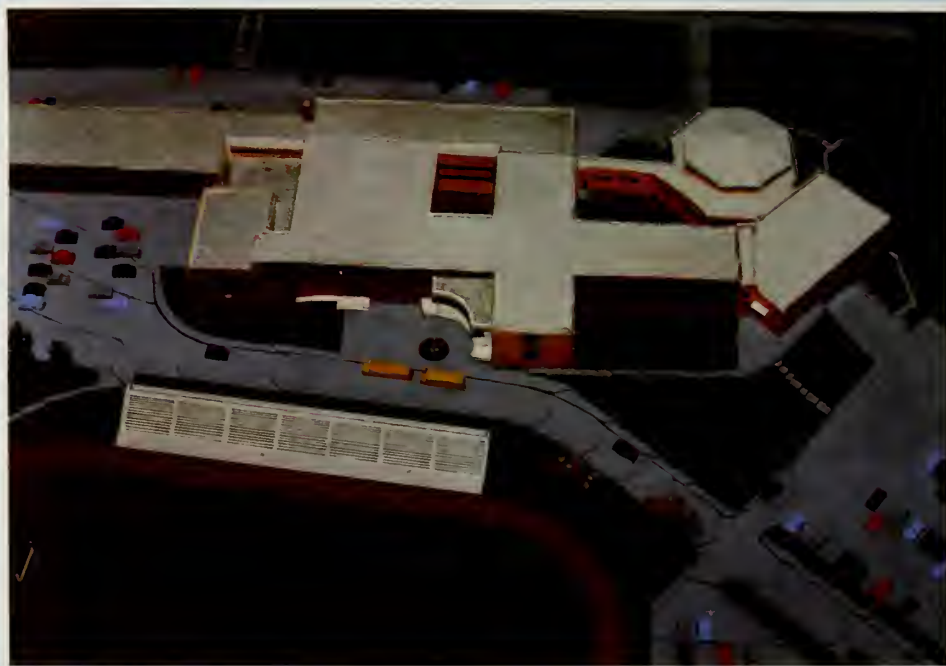

Those of us at Comp have been involved in a balanced atmosphere of enjoyment and learning throughout our school years. Though sometimes it seemed like we were trapped in the confines of homework and tests, we were always able to find escapes through extracurricular activities and functions. At the same time these activities were providing us with enjoyment, they were also teaching us basic values of life such as sportsmanship, cooperation, leadership, respect, and maturity.

Look around you and what do you see? All those smiling faces tell you that there is great spirit and pride at Comp. In the activities, functions, sports, and classes the enthusiasm is displayed by students through participation.

Scaled model of Comp's new appearance with completed renovations.

A typical Comp classroom - one of Mr. Jendrysik's U.S. History classes.

Each of us contributes to the reputation of our school. Our good sportsmanship and spectator enthusiasm accompany all of Comp's teams at any event. The spirit, pride, and confidence we have in our teams often leads them to victory.

There are many aspects around us that remind us of our school and community. Our enthusiasm in school functions and extra-curricular activities is overwhelming. Our involvement in charity campaigns such as the "Toys For Tots" and the "Canned Food Drive" involve us in the community around us.

Welcome to

FOR INFORMATION

592/0644

2nd. largest City in Western Massachusetts

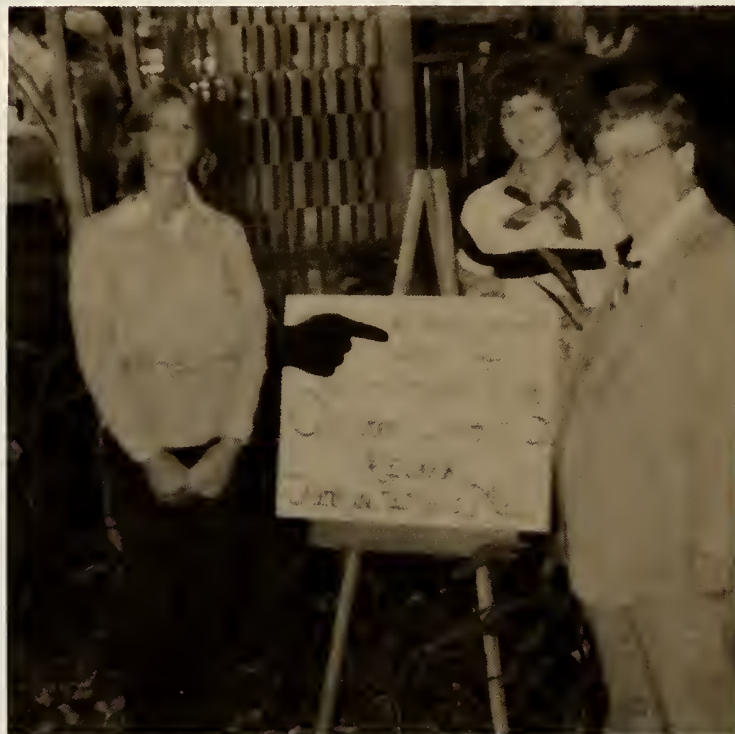

Two of Comp's many active student council members, Barb Nauman (left) and Ellen Kusek (right) work as escorts for the accreditation team, Oct. 30th-Nov. 1st, 1978.

The student council and drama club organized a room at the "Haunted House" to raise money for the March-of-Dimes.

Because of our community involvement, we can also turn to the community for help. In August, 1978, Fairfield Mall manager Larry Hyman (right) donated all fountain proceeds to Me-mini '79.

In the Christmas spirit, Comp students conduct charity drives for "Toys For Tots" and our own "Canned Food Drive", both in which we do exceptionally well.

With "hands touching hands" as our theme throughout Memini '79, it seems only fitting that we should dedicate our yearbook to someone who has stretched out his hand and who has touched the lives of so many of us in Comp.

Part of our education is to learn more about ourselves as unique individuals in this complex society of life. All too often today, adults seem to push us out of their way and don't take the time to help us with our problems or listen to what we have to say, in order to help us grow and learn. Not only does this man have the patience, understanding and knowledge to listen to us and to give us advice in order to able us to cope with our problems; but he also treats us as adults in allowing and demanding us to make the final decision.

Upon meeting this man, one is told, "If you need a father to talk to, I'll listen; if you need a mother's shoulder to cry on, I'm always here; and if you need a friend for support and advice, you know where you can find me." It is unbelievable how one man can offer so much of his life to so many others.

This man's hands have reached out and encompassed not only the lives of students in our class, but also the lives of students before us and they will continue to reach out to students after us. So, because of this man's generosity and understanding, it is with gratitude and deepest affections that we are proud to dedicate Memini '79 to Mr. George DeFlorio.

SENIORS

STRENGTH AND UNITY

Being the last class of the 70's, we didn't leave Comprehensive quietly and unnoticed. Instead, we left in full force always shouting our strength and vigor. Many people doubted our strength to be a unified class, because we were the first class in years to go directly to Comp, instead of Kirby, for our freshman year. But in spite of their doubts, we formed a strong class and worked to make our mark, that we did. As our friendships and unity have grown, so have each of us. It is with this that we hope each will find this strength in himself to carry on after graduation, to make his life the best and most gratifying.

"The past years at Comp were very memorable ones. I hope our Senior year is better, the people are fantastic and I'm going to miss them." Marie Rainey

"My years at Comp flew by, which is good but I'll miss all the fun and all the great people." Bill Todd

"Our four years at Comp are coming to an end and I can't bear the thought of leaving all the beautiful friends I've met since freshman year. My memories of them and their closeness, the teachers and their understandingness, and the school itself will stay with me forever." Jean Fonfara

"The years at Comp have been both good and bad. The people are really special, and I'm going to miss them and all the good times. Out of all the school's Comp has the best of everything." Theresa Norton

"I can truly say that I am proud for attending school at Comp. I have made many friends and have had a lot of good times throughout my four years here. I know Comp is number 1." Steve Foisy

"These four years at Comp have held a lot of great times, and made a lot of friendships that will last for a long time. Senior year will be great from beginning to end, and I hope our class can get even closer." Marlene Heath

"My four years at Comp have been very memorable and fun. This school is very special to me because when I came to this school I did not know that many people, but because of such nice people in Comp I found many new friends and this made my years at Comp very special. To me, this school played a very important part in my life." Mike Millette

"I thought four years would be a long time, but now that I'm a Senior it all went by so fast that I don't want to leave." Karen Zielonka

"My four years here at Comp have been the best years of my life. I will always remember the good times I had here. The new friends that I made here are irreplaceable because Comp students are the best friends to have. I am going to miss the school and everything about it." Kevin Learned

"My four years at Comp have been fun (especially my senior year). The people are great and I've made so many friends. I'll miss them all." Becky Watkins

"My four years at Comp have been a great experience. The people here are great and I'll never forget the fun times I've had here. The rallies, the dances, everything was great. Most of the teachers are really nice and helpful. Thank you Comp for the best years of my life." Dana E. Delisle

In Memorium

KELLY HUMPHREY

BRIAN HOWE

Life seems to have it's up's and downs and when we reach one of those down points, each of us feels that we have the greatest problem in the world. In spite of this, we each must continue along and look for the beauty and happiness in life.

Life can be very unpredictable - never quite knowing the path it will take tomorrow. Those who knew Brian, realize that he courageously faced life despite his disillusion. Whereas, Kelly continued life as usual, free from disillusion, until it unexpectedly ended.

Now as we graduate and begin our new lives, the memories of these two beautiful people will live on forever in our hearts and minds.

MRS. MARY RODGERS

MR. ROBERT MERKEL

To the members of the Class of 1979,

When the Class of 1979 entered Chicopee Comprehensive High School, you brought with you the varied experiences of your childhood. Gradually, during your stay here, you have developed a set of shared experiences which will culminate with your graduation. Although you will once again follow different paths, you leave with a common set of experiences and shared memories.

No one can tell at what point the Class of 1979 crystallized into a spirited, unified body, but during that process, slowly and unconsciously, you have learned what is probably the most valuable and hopefully the most enduring lesson of your lives. You have learned what cooperation, tolerance and endurance can achieve for you. Although some of the academic knowledge which you have worked so hard to acquire will slip away in years to come, the awareness of your own capabilities and the ability to work toward a common goal with others whose opinions and talents differ from your own will never leave you. If you have learned tolerance, compassion and self-awareness, then we as educators have achieved our goal.

High school graduation is only a beginning, a time to test the ideas and skills that you have acquired. Although we will be saddened to see you leave, we share your enthusiasm for the future and hope that the values and skills we have tried to help you develop will strengthen you throughout your lives.

Congratulations on your many achievements and best wishes for the future.

Mary Rodgers

JANICE MCCARTHY
(VICE-PRESIDENT)

To the Class of 1979,

I would like to sincerely thank you for electing me as your class president for the last three years. It has been truly an honor to be able to serve such an outstanding class. Through our years at Comprehensive, we have grown in many ways. We have grown in knowledge, and in spirit. Most of all, we have learned to work together to become a strong united class.

Also, the close contacts I have had with the administration and my fellow students will always remain with me. Each person I have met has touched me in a very special way and I hope that I have done the same to each one of you.

I would especially like to thank our class advisors for doing such a terrific job. I am very proud to have been associated with these two great people.

Many of us will separate, but I hope the memories that Comprehensive has given you, will always stay with you.

I wish you all the very best of luck in whatever you do.

Sincerely yours,
Lance Mason

“The Last Shall Be First”

“The first shall be last and the last shall be first”
Though the last class of the 70's our spirit has always been first.
Memories will always return when we hear “79”
Remembrances of these four years will remain in our minds.

As freshmen we broke along time tradition
We went straight to Comp, instead of the Kirby addition.
They said we wouldn't be unified - our class would fall apart
But we knew we were great, right from the start.

The year was chaotic, getting to know our new school
We were constantly reminded to follow all rules
The upper classmen gave us wrong routes to find our classes
To add to their enjoyment, they sold us elevator passes.

With our sophomore year, we started to rate
As our candy drive results really were great,
We broke the school record - surpassed our own goal
We proved we could work as a class on a whole.

This was when we sponsored our first dance
Now to be big shots - this was our chance,
We played up publicity that the band was real great
But to our surprise they were a half hour late.

We started our first rally in a big mess
For S-O-P-H-M-O-R-E was our spelling at it's best,
Our spirit wasn't great then, you couldn't even hear it
But try to match it now - no one comes near it.

As semi-upperclassmen, we became involved in charity drives
"Toys for Tots" guaranteed a Merry Christmas for needy, would arrive.
"We are the Champions" became our can food drive theme,
For we collected more cans than had ever been seen.

But there was Powder Puff - Oh my Lord
We never did quite make it on the score board.
The '78 Seniors beat us forty to zip
As we never could escape their powerful grip.

The end of the year seemed exciting to all
For we knew we'd be seniors in the upcoming fall,
Our time 'til graduation, was endless, so it seemed
But this would be our last year to fulfill our high school dreams.

Now as upperclassmen our outlook was different
For we knew our school spirit truly was different
We wanted our last year to be as great as could be Nothing would keep us from this, we could all plainly see.

Senior year was busy; there was so much to do
With planning activities and collecting our dues.
Dues collections were tough, it was like pulling out teeth.
The advisors lectures and threats never seemed to cease.

Our memories, like the Cotillion, will become "Silver Dreams"
Worth more, as time passes, when we remember our schemes.
With our enjoyable senior activities, everyone was satisfied
Until our June 8th graduation came, then everybody cried.

Our high school years have come and gone much too fast
It seems hard to believe already four years have passed.
Only yesterday it seems we first entered Comp's doors
Now we leave them closed behind us, never to enter again, as we have before.

-Karen Redfern

UNDERCLASSMEN

PERSERVERANCE AND LUCK

If a class works together as a whole, to achieve all the goals, there is no limit to its success. Attaining this plateau of success requires much perserverance - which includes spirit and confidence as well as hard work and determination. Individual accomplishment plays a major part in class achievement. Each person must have confidence in himself or herself in order to feel he has the potential to be successful in accomplishments for his class, also. There is much that can be attained during one's high school years, but each individual must keep his personal goals in mind at all times if he truly wishes to attain success.

"I want to try to keep my grades up and make as many friends as I can." Trisha McElway - Sophomore

"I expect to take a language each of my four years so that when I get my diploma, I can go on to college to become an interpreter." Jose Florence - Freshman

"I have tried my best to do as much for my class. I wish there was more I could do but it is not easy to find places to get in and help. It is a lot of work but the pride and respect for the entire body at Comp is the greatest award anyone could receive." Brian Wright - Sophomore

"In my high school years I wish to achieve the best grades I can and make sure that my high school years are not all work but also fun." Col  en Nauman - Sophomore

"Teachers at Comp are nice. I expected the teachers in high school to be a lot harder than in eighth grade. I'm doing okay in school now. I don't want to take easy courses and I plan to take chemistry and courses that will prepare me for college." Trisha McNerney - Freshman

"I'm interested in horses and I want to go into stable management. I'm taking college prep. courses in high school and I plan to go on to college after graduation. I've enjoyed the challenge of making new friends and the lasting relationships have been rewarding." Carol Powtak - Sophomore

"After completing my years of high school at Comprehensive, I hope to have made a significant contribution to my class. I also hope to prepare myself to pursue my career. I have immensely enjoyed the experiences of meeting and working with people from various backgrounds." Donna Krupa - Junior

"I enjoy playing football. I hope to be on the starting football team next year instead of being cut. I am taking courses which will prepare me for college to be a firefighter." Chuck Pepe - Junior

"I have enjoyed the experience of meeting new people and hopefully continuing lasting relationships. I'm taking general courses in high school but I plan to continue my education in animal and veterinary sciences." Sheila Shea - Sophomore

"Although I want to go to college, I want to meet someone that will help me through school. I've got a lot of friends that I know will be long lasting and I know I'll never lose them. I like the people and their friendliness." Diane Godaire - Junior

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Telecommunications is a program designed for juniors and seniors who wish to enter the field of visual communications or who want to learn more about photography for their own benefit. Students who take this double period course are transported to Westover A.F.B., where the telecommunications center is located. Here they have a photography lab and a television center, where programs are taped and shown on Chicopee's cable T.V. Channel 5.

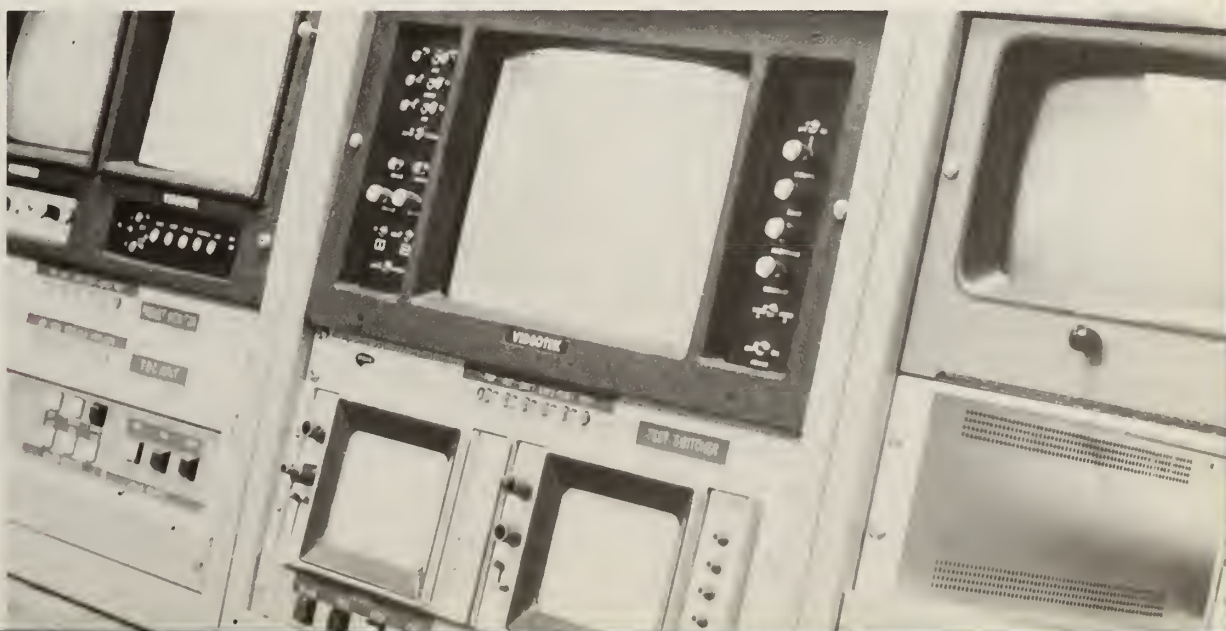

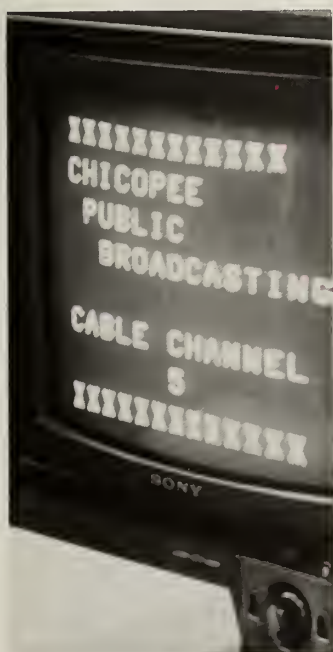

John Dumont - Telecommunications Director

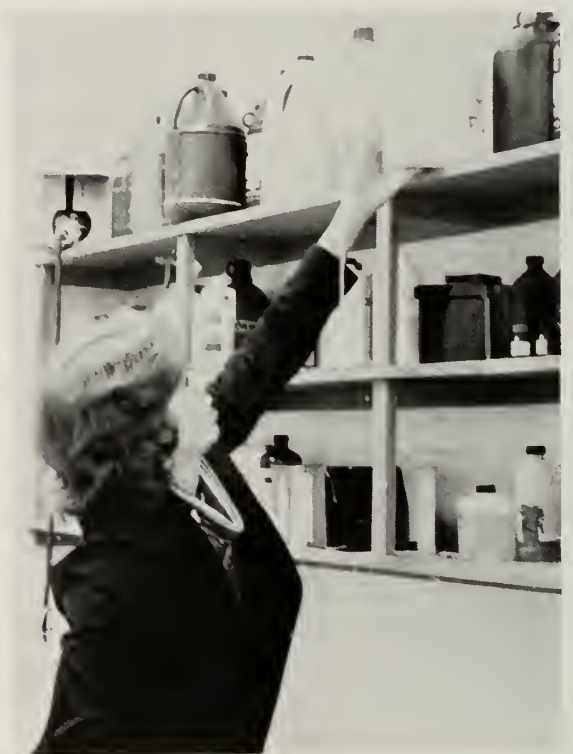

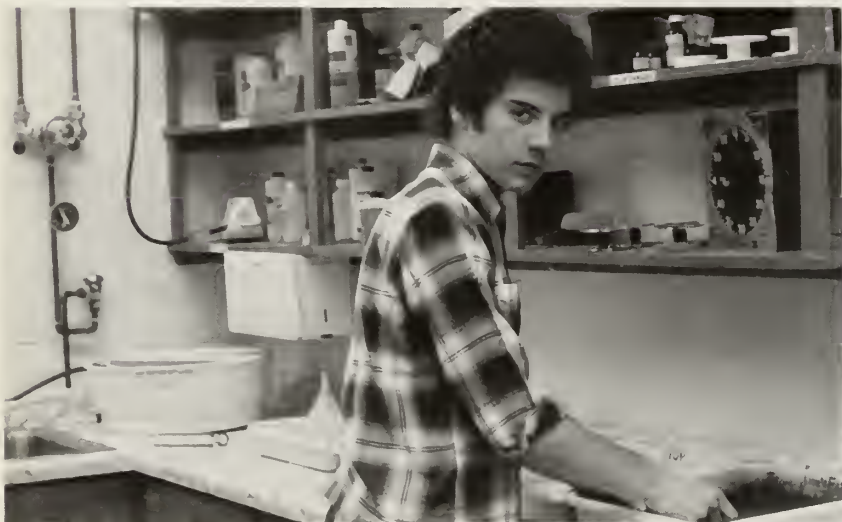

Ken Kostek - Photography Instructor

omprehensive has a unique situation which enables students to partake in either academic or vocational courses or a combination of both. For those students who seriously want to learn a trade to use after high school, they spend four periods a day in the shop of their choice - autobody, automotive, electrical, cabinet, machine, or welding. The rest of the day is spent in academic classes. Thus, with this combination of courses, many students are able to receive a well rounded education and training.

FACULTY

GUIDANCE AND EDUCATION

The faculty and administrators of a school are the key to the educational process. The examples that they set and maintain are those which the student body will follow. Through their guidance and teachings, students not only learn the basic school subjects of "reading, writing, and arithmetic", but also they learn the basic values of life. School life teaches leadership qualities, co-operation with peers and elders, honesty and understanding of people and life. Students become aware of the world around them through the aid of teachers, and thus, they become better adults. The faculty and administration of Comprehensive has offered guidance to all its students because of their special quality of education.

"Our educational system offers students a variety of subjects with elective courses. Student participation in this program does leave something to be desired. Many students misuse the system by taking "easy courses" for the sake of an easy grade." Walter Stachura - English

"When students come back after graduation, I ask them what they think about their education at Comp. They feel they have received a good education in comparison to other high schools. They feel that in Math and especially in English they have received a good background." Marguerite Decker - Librarian.

"Our educational system is viable and diversified to provide an optimum education for all of our students who seek it. A great majority of the students do seek the challenges of the courses offered with the understanding that they may prepare them for their future careers. The greatest deterrent to the students fulfillment of the educational goals may be hindered by the apathy of the individual." Mitchell Kuzdzal - Vice-Principal

"The concept of a comprehensive high school is unique in education. The students who attend Chicopee Comprehensive have the advantage of learning how to relate to people who have educational goals that are more diverse than in a regular high school. This in itself may be one of the valuable benefits of a high school education." Neil R. Martell - Spanish

"Chicopee Comprehensive is one of the most unique high schools in Massachusetts. No other school in the area enjoys the privilege of having a vocational and academic school atmosphere combined under one roof. This enables the students to participate in a co-mingling of academics, athletics and other activities." Douglas Gray - Vocational Director

'Chicopee Comprehensive High School with its elective system, has a wide variety of subjects that students may elect. It is possible for students to - follow a course of study that could prepare a student for almost any kind of job or position. For the most part, students with help from parents and guidance counselors have been making excellent choices toward meeting their goals and objectives. It is indeed most unfortunate that some students are just not taking full advantage of the education being offered at Comprehensive High School. Subjects elected by some students seem to be made purely on the basis of how easy the subject is. It is also my belief that there is a great deal of apathy on the part of many students as to school work in general. Hopefully, the situation may reverse itself in the near future with students becoming more interested in school and in school related activities." Stanley J. Ziemba - Principal

"Our present educational system leaves much to be desired in that it is not providing students with the tools of English and arithmetic. Worse, it has taken away much of the incentive from the average students who strive to do good work. The fault lies at the top, directly in the lap of so-called educators, who are and have become paper shufflers, who have given education two colossal flops: heterogeneous (mixed) classes where less learning takes place, and innovative courses, which require remedial follow-up courses to cure the defects of innovation. A by-product of the foregoing is that the high school diploma has become just another piece of paper — everyone receives it regardless of what they did or accomplished in high school. Today's high school students should well consider striving to do their utmost in English and arithmetic and shun "equivalent" courses. A good grasp of English and arithmetic are the basic ingredients to success in whatever students aspire." Henry Malfas - Business

"The variety of courses offered at Chicopee Comp High School enables the student to select those subjects which will be most beneficial to him as an adult." Judith Czlusniak - English

"The serious student does get the most out of the education offered here at Comp. I can see some pros and cons of the elective system. Some students are only looking for an easy out. Comp is a very good institution and there is good school spirit within the student body. An inner spirit exists that binds the student to the school itself. I feel that the Comp philosophy has worked very well and is exemplified in the majority of students who attend. I feel Comp is the only workable comprehensive school in the state." Julie Leonard - Assistant Vice-Principal

"I believe the curriculum offered by Chicopee Comprehensive is one of the finest of any school of its kind. Many educational opportunities are available in the practical arts for those students seeking job skills and in academic areas for those students planning to continue their education after graduation. Implementing this curriculum is a fine teaching staff, made up of highly skilled professionals and the administrators, working to maintain a proper atmosphere for study with a smoothly functioning school. However, any program is only as effective as the extent to which it is used and unfortunately, some students fail to avail themselves of these opportunities. A mature program demands a mature student body. The faculty and administration have forged a strong program which, hopefully, will be grasped by the students to link them with a fine future if they but try." Joyce Caldwell - English

For most students at Comprehensive, it seems like an eternity until their four years of high school come to an end. Graduation, although sad because of the loss of friendships, becomes a relief to many, as the point of a new beginning. For our principal, Stanley Ziemba, it has taken seventeen years for him to reach his graduation day.

As Mr. Ziemba prepares to retire, we are sure that his heart and mind hold many fond memories of life at Comprehensive. He has seen thousands of students pass through the doors of Comp, and during their high school years he has watched them grow and mature.

Retirement will seem a bit strange at first. Instead of the hustle and bustle of morning announcements and directing students to homeroom and classes, Mr. Ziemba will be able to sit with the morning paper and enjoy a leisurely, second cup of coffee. He will now be able to have time to do the things he has always wanted, and we are sure Mrs. Ziemba will be happy to see him around instead of seeing a blur pass through the door early in the morning and not return until later that evening.

We, the Class of 1979, hope that we are amongst Mr. Ziemba's fond memories, for he will be included in each of ours. Most of all, we would like to wish him happiness and prosperity during his life.

SPORTS

PRIDE AND VICTORY

We at Comp take pride in all our sports, being "winners" or not. Many think of a victorious team as one who wins the game, but as the adage goes "it's not whether you win, but how you play the game". The sports program at Comp gives each individual a feeling of team spirit, school spirit, and most importantly, a great feeling of self-pride. For this reason, each of Comp's many teams and players are victorious, and should be proud of their accomplishments.

"All of Comp's teams share the same attitudes of the spirit of competition, the desire to improve, and the desire to do better after a defeat. Athletics helps them to prove to themselves and others that they can be better and we hope that there is a carry over from sports competitions to life." Mr. Dan Dulchinos - Baseball, Coach

"It is easy for a team to keep their pride in times of victory, but in defeat, it demands a team with a lot of character and many loyal fans, to maintain their pride and spirit." Pat Halpin - Co-Captain, Football.

"The friendliness of the team and the great faith the coach has in you." Betty Orszulak - Girl's Soccer

"Togetherness of the team members. The ability of the team to play as one whole." Wayne Pare - Basketball

"We give each other words of encouragement and we are always there to back each other up." Maria Fredette - Field Hockey

"The responsibility of the coach is a great one, if he understands and can convey his understanding so that the team will excel. Doing your best for the sake of a common goal rather than a material or personal goal proves that the spirit does exist." Mr. Roger Bowden - Hockey, Coach

"By working together as a team you learn to stick together through victories and defeats. If you fall apart during the defeats there is no chance to reunite yourselves to accomplish a victory." Steve Senerchia - Track

"Dedication of the players and the coach to go out and play the best they can and have fun at the same time." Mike Beck - Tri-Captain, Soccer

"Encouragement of all the team members for each other and the pride and dignity of being a Colt harrier." Keith Higgins - Cross Country

"Everyone has the same goal, to win. The best way to do it is as a team. As an individual you can't get as much done. Whereas a unified body can." Chuck Kandilis - Baseball

"Competitive attitudes is the main quality among Comp's teams. They realize that if you work hard to achieve your goal, it doesn't matter if you achieve it immediately, you still must have the desire to continue working toward it." Mrs. Joan Boratis - Girl's Basketball, Coach

"The teams at Comp are successful because the members have a great feeling of pride for the school. But mainly, each individual's love for the sport, in which he partakes, determines the team's successfulness." Dave Bolduc - Football

"Mostly it is the coach who keeps the team together, through victory and defeat. He becomes like a father figure, keeping the "family" together. He gives each of us encouragement during defeat so that we continue to do our best. To sum it all up, he keeps our hope up." Gary Arpin - Baseball

"Comps' teams are unified and successful because the members are all friends-they work together with one another. Members disregard individual achievements and work together for the same goal; helping each other is the main key." John Malikowski - Track

"Coaches make the difference. They must give the team members a feeling of confidence if they are to accomplish anything, and must show, in return, a feeling of respect toward their players. Patience is important, also. Our coaches avoid yelling at the players while they are on the court, and instead, they talk to the players when they are off court which makes everyone feel less nervous." Roma St. George - Basketball

"Athletics is like the game of life; never give up in the face of adversity nor be content on past performances." Miss Mary Hill- Softball, Coach.

"The main element in Comp's sports program relates to team unity. A team that works well together and helps each other will be a successful team. Respect for each other is important. This unity gives a team the strive and determination to be able to beat anyone. A team loses and wins together. When a player is hurt, the team feels it. Unity is what makes Comp the best." Martha Zalewa - Girl's Basketball

"Pride is a big factor in Comp's sports programs. The whole school is so involved in our sports that you want to do your best for yourself, your teammates and the school. Win or lose the fans at the games always have a good thing to say about the team's efforts. This involvement of everybody makes it gratifying to be an athlete here at Comp." Steve LeBel - Football

BOYS SOCCER

Despite the Colts' discouraging season, the team worked together in spirit to come across with unexpected victories in their toughest moments. During the year, the players continued their unrelenting struggle for a winning season. The team's dedication as a unified body has given them pride and a feeling of personal accomplishment.

Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders, those bright-eyed, smiling girls, continued their great job throughout this past year. Sometimes having to cheer during depressing moments can be a hard task, but not for the cheerleaders at Comp. This group of girls, kept the spirit going during every sporting event. In their own accomplishments, these girls have much to cheer about with the great results of their cheerleading tournaments.

Cross-Country

This year's Cross-Country team, far exceeded its expectations. They were undefeated throughout the regular season and ran away with the Valley League title, the first ever won by a Comp Cross-Country team. Even in Western Mass. competition, they continued their pattern of victories, placing second overall. They were, and still are, true champions in every sense of the word.

Despite the fact that this years Field Hockey season was slow, the players exhibited enthusiasm. Players were pleased with the results of their season, even though they only had one win. There was a mutual feeling amongst the veteran team members that this was their best year yet. In comparison to other years, their losses this season were by less than in previous seasons.

Practice makes perfect, they say, and the boys swim team at Comp practiced for many long hours to be in top shape for their competitions. Though they did not attain an exceptional season record, they competed well enough to hold their own. his year's boy's basketball team possessed unmistakable desire and co-ordination. Defeating most of their opponets and going on to the tournament, they showed that they were capable of handling anything that came their way. The qualities of leadership and sportsmanship, evident in practice as well as games, were mainly responsible for the beneficial season that the boys had. As players and people, this basketball team may be the finest Comp has ever had.

Girls Basketball

Setting a new Massachusetts state record of 49 consecutive wins, was the result of much talent and hard work on the part of the girl's varsity basketball team. Over the past three years, these girls have strived for the utmost in perfection of their sport; the girls won their first nine games this season before facing their first loss. This year's seniors should be proud of their endeavors they have accomplished in their past years of basketball. Through this experience, the team members have learned pride in themselves, their school, and truly how to love the game.

While the girl's varsity basketball team was busy setting its records, the J.V. team was following its footsteps. This year the J.V. record, 15-1, was the best in Comp's history. Their only loss was to Northampton, 38-37, but in their second confrontation with Northampton, Comp J.V.'s won 45-26. With their excellence of sportsmanship, these future varsity players will continue to proudly uphold the name of Chicopee Comp.

Comp hockey fans weren't disappointed this year with the results of the games. Victories far outweighed losses, but even in defeat, team spirit was continually evident. Being inexperienced, the team surpassed goals that they and the coaches had set in anticipation. Team spirit and cooperation enabled the Colts to beat Chicopee High for the first time ever. This year's seniors were very aggressive but the maintained a respect of their opponents. Each team member should be proud because as Coach Bowden stated, "of all the teams I have coached, this team has done more with it's talent than any other"

Skiing

Changes in format began with the Comp ski team this year. For the first time ever, the girls skied independently, and next year, the girls will be officially established as a separate ski team. Some new inexperienced skiers developed into strong skiers during this year's season. Looking toward next year, it would appear that Comp will have a strong, experienced ski team, since only one member is graduating.

ACTIVITIES

FUN AND TOGETHERNESS

Cooperation, leadership, and responsibility are only a few of the personal development traits that can be gained through active involvement in school activities. While they are providing us with a means for present enjoyment, they are also teaching us about aspects of life which will become more valuable in time. When each of us enters the "working world", the society of hustle - and - bustling lives, employers will always question about "prior experience". Many times, high school activities may aid in this area of experience. For now, these clubs and extra curricular activities provided us with channels where we can be free to realize our potentials and learn more about others. The closeness of a group and the respect amongst the members offers us the chance to feel wanted and "a part of the group".

"I have enjoyed my numerous activities because they have enabled me to accept more responsibilities. My participation in these activities has given me the opportunity to meet new people." Patty Mysona - Senior

"Being in the hiking club has given me the chance to have some fun with people I like and has also given me the chance to loose a little flab." Brian Wright - Sophomore

"Being a cheerleader, I get to meet many people from many different schools. Also, it allows me to go many places. It has made me less shy in front of crowds and has built my confidence." Connie Bullock - Sophomore

"I've had a lot of fun. I've had the chance to get to know the members of my class a lot better and the chance to work together as a class and as a whole. Powder Puff, which I missed during my senior year, was an activity that taught us much cooperation and sportsmanship. Our spirit before and after the game was great and the guys were good natured to dress up as cheerleaders." Lori Mancini - Senior

"In the activities and sports that I have participated in, I have learned sportsmanship and cooperation with team mates and club members. In sports, I learned to play as a team and not as an individual." Gary McNerney - Junior

"Working this year with all my fellow seniors has been a lot of fun for me. We've fulfilled what we wanted and learned a lot along the way. I have gained friendship and also I have learned to love others." Diane Spivey - Senior

"I get experience for college by writing for the newspaper, I've enjoyed learning different aspects of the newspaper." Rhonda LeSiege - Junior

"Participating in activities is something that more people should get involved in because you get to meet a lot of people and have a good time." Bob Clark - Senior

"I've enjoyed the places I've gone and the new people I've met." Sue Tetreault - Sophomore

"You have a chance to meet new people and learn how to work with others." Margaret Cote - Senior

"I enjoyed working with a lot of people. Our class works together good as a whole; we have accomplished everything that we set out to. These past four years have been years that I will always remember. I learned how to work together - to take orders and carry them out and to be responsible. I also learned to achieve goals that I thought I could not reach." Janice McCarthy - Senior

"I have enjoyed being a home room representative because this activity has allowed me to get to know and to get closer to many of my fellow junior class members." Patty Getto - Junior

"I had a lot of fun doing something that benefits the community as well as the school. Working together shows how everyone can get along. I had many good memories from collecting cans which benefited the school and our community. We had a blast!" Marci Dunnagan - Senior

"I enjoy being with people, we had many good times when we were all together. I learned to take responsibilities and realized that you can't always be what you want to. Our class came to know that working together could accomplish all." Mitch Giblo - Senior

"Throughout my four years at Comp I have enjoyed working with people because I got to know many of them and became good friends with them. Through these friendships I gained an understanding of the people around me and learned to take my own responsibilities." Lauren Pray - Senior

"I enjoyed meeting and being with all my classmates. With as many activities as we have done it has shown that we can accomplish a great deal in such little time. All of our charitable activities have been successful since more and more people are getting involved to help others. It has taught me that working together will help us conquer our goals in life." Lance Mason - Senior

Comp vs. Chicopee High confrontation is the most important weekend of the football season. This is when the cross-city rivals meet, battle for the victory, and stake a claim for the sword. Through the years, as far as winning the football game, the school spirit remains strong and never falters.

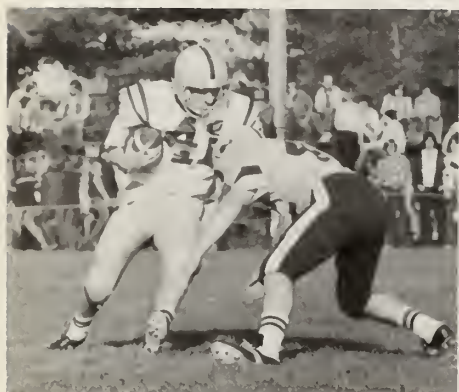

Thursday morning, on the last day of school before the game, the traditional exchange rally was held. During the rally, Chicopee High football captains and their cheerleaders were welcomed to Comp's gym. Short speeches and wishes of "best of luck to both teams" were given by representatives of each school, to show that friendship exists above rivalry.

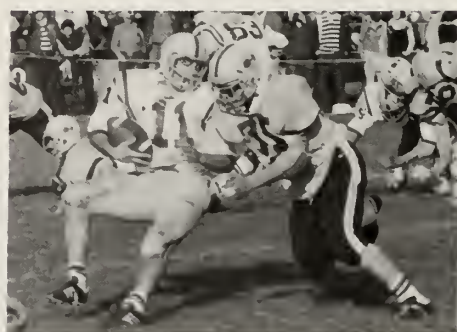

Groups of Colt supporters arrived at the school early Saturday morning, in brightly decorated cars, bearing the school colors and slogans of Comp #1. To show their spirit they soon created a massive motorcade which traveled throughout the city en route to the game.

Although the Colts were defeated by the Pacers, the Comp fans welcomed their team back with a standing ovation at the Spaghetti Supper. About 300 people turned out for the Spaghetti Supper, which is sponsored by the senior class, and is the traditional end to this big weekend.

Comp conquers the tank!

ilver Dreams'', this year's Christmas Cotillion theme, turned out to be very appropriate for the occasion, because those in attendance enjoyed an unforgettable evening. The Cotillion, held at Our Lady of the Elms College, on December 15th, began with a smorgasbord and the couples were entertained with four hours of dancing music provided by the "Continental."

Some of the dancers included some of Steve Martin's antics in their dance steps.

Christmas Spirit is the main element of Comp's traditional Christmas assembly. The band and chorus provided the students with musical entertainment. The main highlight of the program was the announcement of collect totals for the canned food drive and "Toys for Tots" campaign. Once again, Comp's beloved Mrs. Semmel, with her bell and sand pail, which are known throughout the hallways, donated much money to aid the Christmas basket preparation.

MEMINI 1979 Yearbook Editors: Tami Tokarski and Karen Redfern

We Would Like To Extend Our Thanks To:

Dawn Diflumeri and Janet Howard for their fine work on the Senior section, we're sure they will never forget their 4 a.m. deadline or should we say "dread" line!

Barb Nauman and Joann Nicklas underclassmen editors; they know what it's like to get the photographs for their section the day before the deadline is due. They did a fine job, especially for being rushed.

Theresa Norton and Jackie Connally for the time and effort that they put into preparing the faculty section.

Martha Zalewa, our sports editor, and the many people who faced the task of laying out Sports pages to insure meeting a smooth, prompt deadline schedule.

Cheryl Baulding for the great interest that she had in producing the activities section.

The small group of people who gave up some of their free summer hours to solicit advertising funds. Without their help we wouldn't be able to produce this book, so we are forever in debt to you.

Anne Desroches for doing any necessary art work in any of the sections; she is the creator of our comical hand.

Sandy Zdroykowski and Marie Rainey for organizing a yearbook subscription staff and creating a well-run campaign.

June Lacoste and Laurie Pronovost and Deb Bell for their volunteered typing skills.

Advisor
Raymond Boulais

Editors
Tami Tokarski And Karen Redfern

Bob Clark and Kevin Smith for their dedication to the photography section in taking last minute photos; many times it was a two man photography staff. And to Kevin, for developing last minute film at home.

Mr. Fleury for supplying us with the fall sports team photos - we are forever grateful.

Larry, Mark and Bob Grenier and all the staff at Grenier - Du-charme studio who were so cooperative with taking photos, processing them and even catching busses from Boston when time was running close.

Roger Nichols Music Inc. for the copy right permission for "The Times Of Your Life". Copyright - 1974 Roger Nichols Music, Inc. Music by: Roger Nichols, Lyrics by: Bill Lane.

Mr. Don Lendry, our yearbook representative, for answering our calls of distress many a night at 11:00 p.m. and for helping us along and showing us the ropes of the job.

Mr. Raymond Boulais, our advisor, who was understanding and cooperative when we encountered any problems or difficulties.

Last but not least, we'd like to thank both of our families for all the support that they gave us but mainly, for their understanding of the fact that there were times when we just had to get things done. With their understanding it made things a little easier. Also, to our boy-friends, who understood that yearbook deadlines had to come before dates.

To everyone who helped us get through the production, whether their part seemed large or small, each part was equally as important. We will always be grateful for all your assistance.

Karen and Tami

We greatly appreciate the financial support these preceding businesses and individuals have given us. Without their gracious assistance, publication of MEMINI 1979 would have been impossible. In appreciation for what they have done for us, we hope each of Comp's students will patronize them, whenever possible.

Reach back
for the joys and the sorrows
Put them away
in your mind
Those memories are time
that you've borrowed
To spend when you get to tomorrow

Senior Prom

Shortly after 7:30 p.m., on Saturday June 2, the Willow-Glen in Agawam, Mass. became filled with students dressed in tuxedos and long gowns. The Senior Prom, which commences the Senior Week activities, was appropriately themed "The Long and Winding Road", since the seniors were nearing the end of their long road through high school. Seniors received engraved brandy snifters as prom favors, but it is doubtful that any will ever forget the enjoyable evening.

Antics from "Animal House" made it big on the dance floor.

ME?! I'm having a great time.

unshine, smiles, laughter, and plenty of good food filled the air Wednesday, June 6, at High Meadows in Granby, Conn. Under a virtually cloudless sky, seniors enjoyed a variety of activities or the opportunity for relaxation. As is traditional, the class advisors distributed the long-awaited senior T-Shirts early in the afternoon. Even black clouds and rain showers that appeared as the busses were departing did not begin to dampen the seniors' spirit.

Senior Picnic

There was good eating all day long.

There was time for swimming and for sun bathing

and of course, relaxation.

Chez Josef in Agawam, Mass. hosted this year's Senior Class Banquet on Thursday, June 7. The seniors enjoyed an evening of dinner, dancing, and mingling with friends. Following dinner, they were addressed by class officers and advisors, and school and city administrators. MEMINI 1979 was presented to the class and received a standing ovation, as did the announcement of the yearbook dedication to Mr. George Deflorio. Although the evening was a pleasurable experience, it was slightly saddening to think that it was the last formal gathering of the Class of 1979 before graduation the following day.

Senior Banquet

Hi Buddy! How've you been?

Presentation of the yearbook by editors Karen Redfern and Tami Tokarski, was a major highlight of the evening.

The dedication of the yearbook was kept a complete secret from everyone until the moment of the announcement at the banquet. Then, it came as a surprise not only to the students, but also to Mr. Deflorio, as one can see.

Let's see what we have here

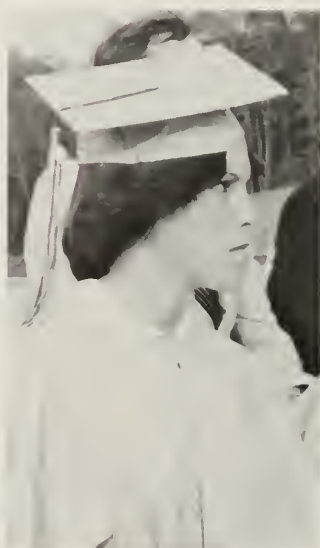

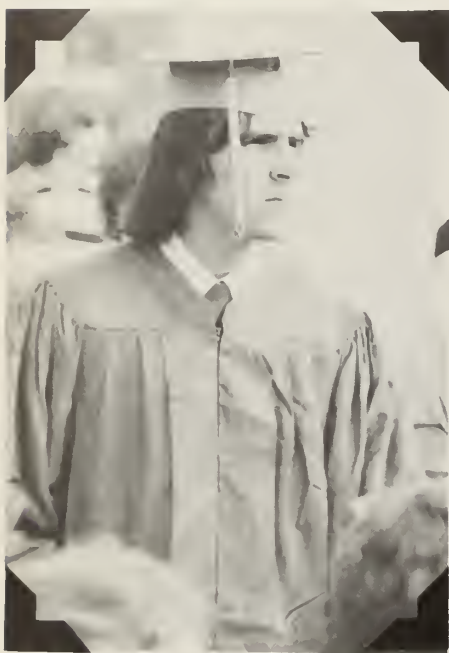

Graduation Day 1979 was not only a joyful but tearful day for the students of the Class of 1979, but also for Comp's Principal, Mr. Ziemba who retired on that day. Although the students were happy to be graduating, tears filled many an eye when President Lance Mason said, "I hereby dissolve the Class of 1979 into the ranks of alumni." Though each student will now embark upon his own life, the memories of their high school friendships and activities will always remain.

Graduation

Monsig. Devine delivers the invocation.

Graduates are led into the ceremony.

Valedictorian, Roma St. George.

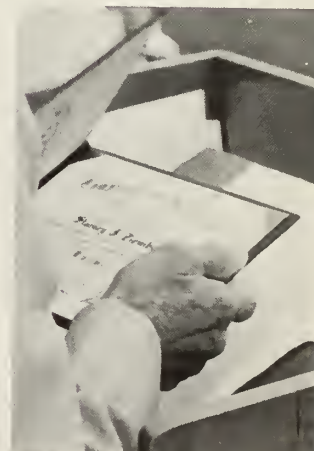

Salutatorian, Amanda Sherrer.

Tears of sorrow or of joy?

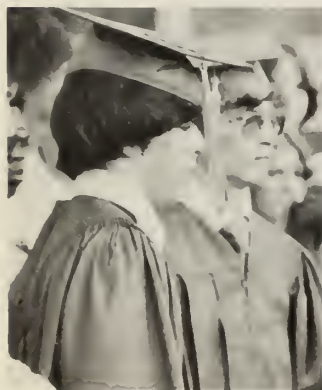

After 17 years at Comp, Principal Stanley J. Ziemia receives his CCHS diploma from class President, Lance Mason.

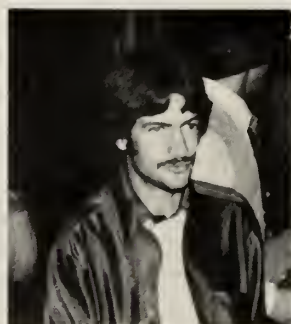

At left, The class of 1979 is formally dissolved into the ranks of alumni.

As the graduates depart, it marks the end of the graduation ceremony as well as the end of their high school education.
